We want a low-carbon future: a future where the greatest minds in industry come together to share their expertise to create an innovative and sustainable energy sector. Britain's Energy Coast Business Cluster (BECBC) is a 300 plus member organisation. Recognised as the voice for the Supply Chain, BECBC is a private sector led collaboration with Global Reach.

Global Reach 2019 is bringing together major international players and supply chain representatives from around the globe, in a forum designed to share knowledge, best practice and develop tangible business opportunities within the international energy community. Acting upon the zero carbon commitment made by the UK government, Global Reach will provide a platform to address how the international community can come together to create a successful clean energy future.

Why sponsor or exhibit?

The global reach conference will be of value to sponsors and exhibitors by:

- Sharing knowledge and best practice from across the globe
- Developing business relationships within the energy community
- Showcasing the activity the sector is undertaking towards a low-carbon future
- Exploring the international dimension and opportunities for the supply chain
- Promoting an innovative and sustainable energy sector

Who should attend?

The event will attract individuals and organisations from around the world that will play a key role in meeting a low-carbon future. This will include CEOs and Board members, directors and government representatives, individuals from across the international energy community, the next generation of leaders and key regional stakeholders. Global Reach 2019 is open to the whole energy industry and beyond.
